

WILL BUILD MORE SEWERS

Much Work to be Done in Extending Water Mains and Building Sewers in City This Fall.

The council met in regular monthly meeting last Monday evening, with all members present and Mayor Hanna presiding. An ordinance establishing a grade and ordering sidewalks built on the east side of George street, between Main street and Normal avenue, was read and adopted.

Robt. Maine, city comptroller, presented an estimate of the city's expenses for the ensuing year, which he placed at $50,900, while the revenues from licenses, etc., were placed at $18,050, leaving the sum of $32,850 to be raised by taxation. The estimate was referred to the committee on finance to report at the next meeting. The committee on lighting recommended that the arc light at the corner of Elk and Park streets be removed further north and an additional light be placed at the corner of Elk and Brawley streets. The report was adopted, all voting in favor except Ald. Langosky and Polebitski.

The mayor, as a member of the committee to whom was referred the matter of a right of way for a side track for the Polish Brewing Co., recommended that the track be laid from the north side of Wisconsin street, thence south on the west side of Wood street to the brewery. The report was accepted and the right of way granted. The mayor also recommended that a sewer be laid from St. Peter's parochial school to the Sisters' residence, one block north, and also that the unfinished sewer on Main street, covering two blocks, be put in at once. The estimated cost of this work was placed at $1,000, and the report was adopted. The mayor, comptroller and clerk were authorized to borrow necessary funds to do the sewer work and meet expenses until tax time. Ald. Pfiffner stated that the cutting down of Pine street, in front of St. Stephen's parochial school, would endanger the water pipes freezing during the coming winter, and it was decided to lower the pipes or put in new service at the expense of the city.

Ald. Pagel said that a number of unoccupied lots owned by the city might be sold at this time, and the clerk will make out a list and a committee composed of Ald. Schenk, Pagel and Gee was appointed to place a price on the property and report at the next meeting. Ald. Langosky wanted to know what had been done about extending Fifth avenue, and Ald. Patterson replied that thus far the board of public works had not acted, on account of the change in city attorneys.

Ald. Schenk stated that a winter driveway could be made across the river from the west side, on the north side of the bridge, at little or no expense, and the board of public works was authorized to see that this is done after the river freezes over. Ald. Polebitski, as a member of the highways committee, recommended that the water main be extended on Fifth avenue from N. Second street, and his recommendation was adopted, all voting in favor except Ald. Eddy and Neseman. The meeting then adjourned.

Football Player Wounded.

John O'Brien, one of the Wausau High school boys that played in the foot ball game in this city last Saturday, met with a serious accident Sunday afternoon. He strolled out in the woods near his home, taking a shot gun with him, and while engaged in picking some thornapples from a tree with his right hand and holding the gun in his left hand, with the stock resting on the ground, the weapon was discharged, the entire charge entering his seat, which was badly cut and torn. O'Brien's cries for help brought the assistance of two men who were passing along the road, and he was taken to a doctor's office, where the wounds were dressed. No permanent ill effects are feared, but he will be unable to take part in foot ball games this season.

WAS SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

John Walkush, Young Man From Town of Hull, Meets With Bad Accident While Hunting, Monday.

John Walkush, a son of Jos. Walkush of the town of Dewey, and a nephew of Aug. Walkush, chairman of the town of Hull, is a patient at Mercy hospital in this city. When out hunting last Monday afternoon a shot gun that he carried in his hands was accidentally discharged, the charge entering his right hip and passed up on his right side, drawing the muscles under the arm, and the wadding and other contents were taken out at the top of the shoulder. The hip was burned for several inches, so close was the muzzle of the gun to Walkush at the time the weapon was discharged. Some of the fine shot passed between or through the ribs, but no attempt will be made to remove them. After the accident young Walkush, who is about twenty years of age, walked to his home a half-mile distant, where the flow of blood was stopped by covering the wounds with cotton batting, and he was then placed in a carriage and brought to Mercy hospital, where he is now under the care of Dr. D. S. Rice.

The wound in the shoulder is two or three inches long, while a strip from the hip to the shoulder was burned and cut by the powder and shot. The attending physician believes that the patient will soon recover, unless blood poisoning or some other unlooked for difficulty sets in. Walkush held the muzzle of the gun in his right hand at the time and was pulling the weapon along on the ground in this manner when it came in contact with some obstacle and was discharged.

Mrs. M. W. Buck wishes to respectfully inform the ladies that she will reopen her millinery store, on Main street, next Saturday. The store has been thoroughly repainted and redecorated since the fire, and her stock of pattern hats and trimmed hats, as well as the latest in everything in the millinery line. An inspection is desired, and no effort will be spared to please.

Rector Back From England.

Rev. Martin N. Ray, former rector of the Episcopal church in this city, returned to his home here on Friday last, after spending the past few months at Gravesend, England, where his aged mother still resides. During his stay in his native land, Father Ray had charge of the parish church four miles from Gravesend, the rector being away on a vacation. Gravesend is located on the Thames river, not far from London, and is one of the ancient villages of the mother country. The rector enjoyed his visit there very much, although the season was unusually wet and cool. The voyage going over was pleasant, but the return trip was stormy. For the present at least Rev. Ray will continue to make Stevens Point his home, he having been appointed archdeacon of the Stevens Point archdeaconry several months ago, but his definite plans for the future cannot be announced until the return of Bishops Grafton and Weller, who are now attending the triennial general council of the church at Richmond, Va.

LITTLE RUTH MULLIGAN.

Eight Year Old Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Mulligan, Dies at Her Home at Eveleth, Minn.

The following from the Eveleth, Minn., Star, of Friday, Sept. 20th, will be read with sorrow by the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Mulligan, former residents of Stevens Point:

The resting and pain of death has visited the home of George W. and Mrs. Mulligan. The heartaches and pangs of sorrow are theirs for on Thursday morning their little eight year old child, Ruth, passed from this earth to the home of quiet and peace and happiness, beyond the grave.

Ruth, the bright, happy, joyous child, full of sunlight and hope, contracted diphtheria some six weeks ago. A short time after diphtheria set in, it was followed by partial paralysis of the body. The heart was then affected and great danger was expressed of her recovery. However, she was the tenacious, struggling little child who seemed to want to live and fought against fearful odds. It was her great tenacity, her struggle for life that kept her up to the point where recovery was expected.

For the last several days it was thought in the home and by her physician that her recovery was quite within the possibilities. However, a day or two ago she again contracted bronchitis and because of her weakness was unable to fight against the third attack. For almost three weeks she had not spoken and during all of this time she was but slightly conscious.

It is a telling stroke upon the whole family and particularly upon the fond mother who has so tenderly watched day and night at the bedside of the sweet little girl. Hope of recovery is always uppermost in the minds of parents during such a trying period and when the last comes the shadow of death is the most horrible scene that can be enacted upon the human stage. The child is happy although the parents are sorrowful and while the hand of death presses severely upon the home, yet the hope of the beloved freed from the struggles of a wicked world and in the company of angelic souls soothes to a degree the sorrows and heartaches of the fond parents.

The remains will be buried on Sunday at 2 p. m., from the Episcopal church to the Virginia burying ground. The whole community share in the sorrow of the parents and condolence is expressed on every side.

High School Supper.

The success of the High school supper last year has led up to the making of arrangements for another and larger one to be held Saturday, October 12, in the High school building. A fair will be held in connection. The supper and fair will be held in the two lower hallways, which will be decorated with autumn leaves and pumpkins, representing a harvest festival.

Among the different booths will be the fortune telling booth, candy booth, and a fancy work booth, in which different articles made by the domestic science girls will be for sale. There will also be a play given by the D. D. D.'s, an annual show and a fish pond. Instead of the usual method of advertising the shows by barkers, a band of strolling minstrels will do all the advertising. The supper will be in charge of the High school teachers, assisted by the grade teachers of the different wards. Following is the menu for the supper:

Meat loaf	Mashed potatoes
Baked beans	Cabbage salad
Pickles	Jelly
White bread	Brown bread
Coffee	Cake
Ice cream and cake, 10 cts. extra.

TAKES BRIDE TO CHICAGO.

Miss Sarah Byrde Buchan Becomes Wife of Dr. Thos. H. Kelley, a Chicago Physician and Surgeon.

There was a pretty wedding at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. J. Buchan, 213 Dixon street, at 9 o'clock last Thursday evening, when Miss Sarah Byrde Buchan became the wife of Dr. Thos. H. Kelley, of Chicago, Rev. F. A. Nimits, of St. Paul's M. E. church officiating. The contracting parties stood under a handsome floral bell and the ceremony was witnessed by the immediate relatives and a number of invited guests. The bride was attired in white silk embroidered chiffon over chifon and taffeta and the groom wore the usual conventional black. After congratulations had been extended, a wedding repast was served in the dining room by Mrs. P. J. Kellar, assisted by Mrs. Jas. Mainland, Mrs. E. H. Rothman and the Misses Katharine Langenberg, Anna Chohlm, Georgia Olin and Libbie Ceary. All present remained to pass several enjoyable hours, the younger guests escorting the bride and groom to the 2:30 Central train, which they took for Chicago, where they will be at home after November first.

The bride has passed most of her life in Stevens Point, graduating from our High school with the class of 1902, and for five years had assumed the duties of clerk in the offices of Dr. Gregory. She is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buchan and is a bright, pleasing and popular young lady. The groom's home was formerly at Appleton. He is a graduate of Rush Medical College, Chicago, and is engaged in the practice of medicine and surgery in that city, having met with most encouraging success in his profession.

Those who attended from out of town were the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Kelley, his sister, Miss Lilas Kelley, and his cousins, Misses Josephine and Elizabeth Kelley, of Appleton, Andrew Buchan and wife of Minneapolis, W. R. Buchan and wife and Mrs. Lou Miller, of Denton, Wis., all relatives of the bride.

Married Last Wednesday.

Miss Augusta Heiman, of Merrill, and Frank Shaurette, of this city, were married last Wednesday noon at the home of the bride's parents, F. G. Ludwig, pastor of the German Friedens church, officiating. The attendants were Miss Anna Heiman, sister of the bride, and Edward Shaurette, brother of the groom. The groom, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Shaurette, well known residents and pioneers of the North Side, is employed as a driver on the Sylvester hack line, and has always resided in this city. He is a first class young fellow, and in his selection of a bride has to all appearances made an excellent choice. The young couple will make their future home here. The parents of the groom were also in attendance at the wedding.

Remembered by Friends.

Mrs. L. N. Sovey and children left here this morning for Milwaukee to make their future home, and will reside at 720 Walker street, on the South Side. Mr. Sovey preceded them a couple of days, and is employed by the St. Paul R. R. Co. in that city. Mrs. Sovey was tendered a delightful surprise Saturday evening at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Smith, 911 East avenue, by about twenty lady friends, and was presented with a handsome hand-painted china fruit bowl as a token of the esteem in which she is held by those present, as well as by all who have the pleasure of her acquaintance and friendship. The best wishes for the future of this estimable family in their new home are extended.

The Saw Mills.

The crew at the John Week Lumber Co. saw mill now work twelve and one-half hours per day, commencing last Monday morning. They begin operations at 6 o'clock in the morning, stopping half an hour for dinner and work until 7 o'clock, getting pay for a day and a quarter. The company were unable to secure enough men to operate the mill day and night, and to get their logs, or most of them sawed out this season, decided on the above course.

The Clifford Lumber Co. saw mill started up Monday morning, with the regular crew, after having been idle for a few weeks on account of the low water, being unable to get their logs down, but now expect to keep going until the weather turns so cold that it will be both unsafe and unpleasant to continue operations.

Printer Gets a Bride.

Ladislav Jaworski, foreman at the Rolnik printing office, and Miss Elenore Szymanski, who for the past four years had been employed as a compositor in the same office, were married at St. Peter's church yesterday morning at 8 o'clock by Rev. L. J. Pescinski. The attendants were Anton Szymanski, a brother of the bride, and Miss Mary Stepanak of Junction City. The bride was becomingly gowned in white chiffon, with veil to match.

A reception was held throughout the day at the Szymanski home, 241 Union street, where many friends of the young couple called to extend their well wishes. "Lit," by which name the groom is better known, has been with the Rolnik almost continually since the paper was established. He is a steady, industrious young man, commanding the respect and good will of his employers and the esteem of all who know him. His bride is an excellent little lady and one who will make a good wife. They will live for the present at 241 Union street.

SOME AND OTHER CHANGES

Slight Change in Passenger Schedule on Central in Effect Last Sunday—The Portage Branch Difficulty.

In addition to the undesirable changes in time on the Portage branch of the Wisconsin Central, which went into effect last Monday morning, there are also some slight changes in a few of the passenger trains on the main line. Passenger train No. 1, north bound, will hereafter leave Stevens Point at 5:43 a. m., instead of 5:47, and No. 11, also north bound, will leave at 12:28 p. m., instead of 12:15. The south bound noon train, or No. 12, will leave at 1:18 p. m., instead of 1:13. The south bound Portage passenger train now leaves at 6:30 a. m. and arrives at 8 p. m. Both the north and south bound freight trains have passenger accommodations, the train for the south leaving here at 8 o'clock in the morning, while the train from the south is scheduled to arrive here at 9:55 a. m., when on time.

The passenger service on the Portage branch, which has never been entirely satisfactory to Stevens Point and other stations north of Westfield and Coloma, if indeed it was to points further south, is now in a more deplorable condition than ever, due, it is believed, to no intended fault on the part of the Central company, but largely on account of a lack of knowledge on the part of the railway commission. The latter body is composed of gentlemen who have no desire to favor one locality to the detriment of another, and when matters are presented to them in a true light, as they will be within a very few days, it is believed that there will be another change in time on the Portage-Stevens Point branch of the Central.

After the fact had been announced last week that trains on the road would run as above scheduled, telegrams were sent to the railroad commission asking that the change in time be not put into effect until after the citizens of Stevens Point could have the opportunity of a hearing. A reply, however, was immediately received saying that it was then too late to withdraw their decision, and C. D. McFarland, who was at Madison, called upon the president of the commission, with whom he is personally and intimately acquainted, and after stating the facts in the case, setting forth the unsatisfactory service that it would give the public, was informed that the commission would be ready to take the matter up again as soon as a new complaint should be drawn up and presented in due form. When the time for the hearing is set, the people of Stevens Point, Plainfield, Hancock and all other points along the Portage line, as well as on the main line of the road, north and south, who wish to appear, can be heard. As said before, the commission wish to be fair, and just and will act for the best interests of all.

The editor of the Montello Express seems to have had a dream, and says that The Gazette has not been consistent in its protests relative to the passenger service on the Portage branch of the Central. The time table in effect for some weeks previous to last Monday was not satisfactory from any standpoint, it is true, but the people here were slow in making a protest, hoping for something better, instead of anything worse. The new schedule, however, is so bad that it would be difficult to imagine anything more unaccommodating, the service being little better than nothing, scarcely equal to the old stage coach mode of travel that the pioneers were satisfied with previous to the fall of '71, because there were no railroads then. If a person comes to Stevens Point on business at the present time, he arrives at 8 o'clock in the evening, after banking and office hours, and when our stores are closed, and he cannot leave until the morning of the second day, as the passenger train departs at 6:30 and the freight at 8 o'clock in the morning, before banking or office hours. Could anything be worse? When the passenger from the south arrived at 8:30 in the evening and left at 10:05 the next forenoon, the average person would say that that kind of service was poor enough, yet it could be called "service," and the kicks were fewer and the protests less noisy. What the people along the line are entitled to is reasonable means of getting from one place to another by railroad, making connections for other points, etc., and the Central officials will no doubt see that they get it in due time.

Marriage Licenses.

Chas. Durand to Laura Billedeau, both of Stevens Point. Frank Klabba to Agnes Jankeski, both of Hull. Lena Kulich, Stevens Point, to Paul Bluman, Sharon.

WAS KICKED BY A HORSE

Ensign Newby, Clerk in the Office of Plover Paper Co., Met With Serious Accident, Sunday Morning.

Ensign Newby, who has been employed as a clerk in the office of the Plover Paper Co., met with a serious accident at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Newby, in the town of Buena Vista, last Sunday morning. Ensign went out into the field for the purpose of catching his horse, when the animal wheeled and kicked him in the face, seriously injuring his jaw and one eye, in fact the entire side of his face was cut and bruised. Dr. Lindores was sent for and reports from the patient this morning are to the effect that he is doing nicely. Mr. Newby had recently resigned his position at the Plover Paper Co. mill for the purpose of accepting an agency for the Watkins Remedy Co., intending to remove to Ohio some time this month. This he will no doubt be able to do, but his departure will probably be somewhat delayed.

After Thirty Years.

Chris. Miller, of Chicago, spent a few days visiting in the city, a guest of Mrs. Anna Rose, 107 Cleveland avenue, and N. Berens, on Normal avenue, both of whom he knew in the fatherland. Mr. Berens and Mr. Miller were schoolmates at Hookweiler, Germany, and had not met since the departure of the former for America in 1875. The latter remained in his native land for several years thereafter, serving in the German army for three years and then came to Chicago, where he has met with good success.

Visitor From the West.

Mrs. J. C. Shirley, whose husband was formerly engaged in the confectionery business in the building just north of the Central passenger depot, arrived here yesterday morning from the west, where she has made her home during the past four years. Mrs. Shirley spent some time at Portland, but later went to Oakesdale, Wash. She caught a severe cold while coming east and was ill at St. Paul a couple of weeks. After a visit among old friends here, Mrs. Shirley will go to Carthage, Ill., where her late husband is buried, and will then proceed to Kansas City, where she may remain during the winter. Her daughter, Miss Ina, is a successful teacher of music at Portland.

Rally at Presbyterian Church.

Next Sunday the different organizations of the Presbyterian church will have rally exercises. Beginning at 10:30 morning service will be a joint meeting with the bible school and they will have an interesting printed program of brief addresses and good stirring patriotic songs and music. The title of this service is "Our Fatherland." At the close of the morning session there will be a brief meeting of the bible school, at which new names will be placed on the rolls of the school and pupils will be assigned to their proper classes. An adult bible class will be started and adult members of the congregation are invited to join this class.

At 6:30 the intermediate and senior Endeavor societies will hold their meetings with the topic, "Rally to the Work." All young people of the congregation should plan to be present at this important meeting.

In the evening the pastor, Rev. John A. Stemen, will give the third of the series of popular addresses on "The Iamus of Paul." All are invited to attend this service.

NEW PARK IN PROSPECT.

Woman's Club May Purchase A. J. Agnew Homestead for Public Outing Place—Offered for $3,500.

Members of the Woman's Club civic improvements committee met at their rooms in the public library building, yesterday afternoon, and informally discussed the proposition to buy the triangular piece of property owned by A. J. Agnew on Division, Pine and Wisconsin streets. There is a fine house on the property, which had been occupied until recently by Prof. T. B. Pray's family, but if the Woman's Club concludes to buy the place, the dwelling will be sold and moved away. Mr. Agnew has made the very low offer of $3,500 and if the property is purchased for park purposes, he will contribute the sum of $200, making the net price $3,300. The committee will make a report at the club meeting next Saturday afternoon, when it is probable that a plan will be formulated for raising the money. The property covers a frontage of 213 feet on Wisconsin street, 306 feet on Pine and about 350 feet on Division street.

Gathered Him In.

Richard Green, a young man 23 years of age, whose home is in the town of Linwood, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Merrill Guyant, last Saturday, on the charge of getting money under false pretenses. The complainant is John Pascavicz, of the town of Linwood, to whom Green presented what was purported to be an order from Pascavicz's brother, setting forth that he had worked for the latter and asking John to pay Green $5. The order, however, proved to be a fictitious one and the warrant was sworn out about three weeks ago, as above charged. The officers located Green at different points in this county and in Wood county, but when they arrived he managed to have left just a short time before. It was learned, however, the last of the week that he was at work on a farm in Belmont and Deputy Guyant went down and gathered him in. On being arraigned before Justice Carpenter, Monday, Green entered a plea of guilty and was bound over for trial before the circuit court. The minimum penalty is a fine of $1 and costs, while the maximum is five years in state's prison, and it is believed that the prisoner will ask to appear in court and receive his sentence. The young man has served time in jail before.

Will Be a Benedict.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kendrick Kerns have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Harriet White Kerns, to Anton Charles Krembs, of Stevens Point. The ceremony will take place on Thursday of next week, Oct. 10th, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, at Our Lady of Lourdes rectory, 275 North Ashland avenue, Chicago. The bride-to-be is a former teacher in our High school, and has very many friends in this city. Mr. Krembs is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Krembs, Sr., and is engaged as bookkeeper in the hardware store of C. Krembs & Bro. They will reside in Stevens Point.

GOES TO SHEBOYGAN

Rev. Nimits Succeeded Here by Minister From Missouri—Other Assignments at M. E. Conference.

The sixty-first Wisconsin conference of the Methodist Episcopal church came to a close in Milwaukee last Monday night with the announcement by Bishop J. W. Hamilton of the list of assignments. Rev. F. A. Nimits, who for the past three years has labored hard and faithfully as pastor of St. Paul's church in this city and of the Methodist congregation at Plover, has been transferred to Sheboygan, a prosperous city on the shores of Lake Michigan. He will preach his first sermon there next Sunday and expects to move a few days later. Both Mr. Nimits and his excellent family have made numerous good friends during their brief stay among us, the friendship being by no means confined to the congregation's membership, and the good wishes of all will follow them to their new home. Mr. Nimits also desires at this time to express his deep appreciation for the many courtesies extended him during his residence in Stevens Point.

Rev. Nimits will be succeeded here by Rev. C. F. Spray, a new man in the conference and who comes here from Missouri, where for several years he was president of a college.

Other assignments of local interest are the following: C. W. Turner, Sherman street church, Milwaukee; R. W. Bosworth, Delevan; John T. Fish, Heart Prairie, LaGrange and Adams; Thos. Sharpe, Hebron and Rome; Geo. C. Carmichael, presiding elder of Fond du Lac district; T. D. Williams, presiding elder of Oshkosh district; E. S. McChesney, agent for the conference claims fund, with headquarters at Milwaukee; J. H. Tippet, Janesville; C. I. Andrews, Hartford; C. F. W. Ludwig, Almond; A. H. Christensen, Blaine and Grant; F. C. Zoerb, Buena Vista; E. G. Roberts, Dartford; A. O. Nuss, Poyissippi and Spring Lake; Webster Millar, Waupaca; Wm. Moyle, Angelica; W. A. Hall, Antigo; C. H. Jaquith, Milladore, Rudolph, Mosinee and Dancy.

Law Buys a Home.

Fred Carver, of Colby, spent Sunday and Monday in the city, and while here transferred the residence heretofore owned by his mother, Mrs. L. M. Carver, at 719 Ellis street, to Chas. Law, who has occupied the property for a couple of weeks. The other heirs who signed the deed were Mrs. A. F. Elise, of McDill, and Mrs. Wm. Pattee, of Endeavor, sisters of Mr. Carver. The property consists of a neat two story residence and one lot, and the consideration was $1,600. Mr. Law, who is bookkeeper and shipping clerk at the Wisconsin River Paper Co. mills, will make a number of desirable improvements on the property in the near future, including the remodeling of the interior, and adding lighting, heating and sanitary conveniences.

Somerset's Wonderful Healer.

Mrs. Lott M. Ferdon and son, Earl, spent last Monday at Somerset, St. Croix county, where the lady received a second treatment from the healer whose cures are said to be almost miraculous. Mrs. Ferdon has been an invalid for some months, and is still unable to walk, but the healer promises a cure with a few more treatments. He is an Australian, talks very "broken" English, and wears neither shoes nor stockings, while his general appearance is not at all prepossessing. He now has upwards of one thousand patients and refuses to accept any new cases before Nov. 1st. His mode of treatment is practically the same for all, consisting of the application of a plaster to the lower part of the spine, which is worn six days, and when it is removed the back is literally one mass of boils. A few days later a second plaster is put on and the application repeated until a cure is effected.

More Locals.

Jas. J. Nelson, the well known Amherst citizen, visited with his son, District Attorney Nelson, in this city today.

The old army cannon on the court house lawn has been repainted, including the wood work and the iron work, which was done by order of the committee on county grounds and buildings.

Aug. Timm, who has been ill at the home of his mother on Pine street for the past two months, is very low today, being unconscious and his demise is only a question of a short time. He is suffering from liver trouble.

A horse belonging to A. Anderson, who resides on the Jordan road, in Hull, fell on Ellis street, near St. Stephen's parochial school, Monday, and expired. The owner was taking the animal to Dr. Norton's stables for treatment at the time.

Chas. Brady, former chairman of the town of Buena Vista, and one of the best men in the county, has been quite ill at his home in that town for the past week, suffering with ulceration of the stomach. At last reports, however, Mr. Brady was considerably improved and his ultimate recovery is hoped and looked for.

The examination of Louis Palasci and John Shemanski, charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm, the complainants being John Joseph and Thibe Stroik, was conducted before Justice Carpenter Tuesday, and the defendants were bound over for trial before the circuit court. They had been previously admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000 each, and the same bail bond will remain in force. District Attorney Nelson appeared for the state, and Owen & Hanna and Humphrey & Corbett for the defense.

F. Mayer Boot & Shoe Company
MILWAUKEE, WIS.

HAS TREMENDOUS GROWTH

Mayer Boot and Shoe Company, of Milwaukee, With Seattle Branch, One of Largest Concerns in the Country.

Milwaukee can be proud to be the home of the Mayer Boot and Shoe company. Next to the fame of Milwaukee's great breweries comes the country-wide reputation of Mayer boots and shoes. Mayer shoes have won their reputation on quality. The Mayer Boot and Shoe Company has persistently refused to lower quality to enable it to sell shoes at a lower price, and by maintaining this honest and superior quality and keeping in the front ranks in style, it has gradually won the confidence of thousands of shoe wearers who purchase Mayer-made shoes year after year—who look at the Mayer trade-mark as positive evidence of style, comfort and good wearing quality.

This quality policy so consistently pursued has resulted in healthful and rapid growth. In the twenty-five years since the Mayer Shoe Company began operations it has outgrown six factories. And in the last six months, during which the last factory annex in Milwaukee has been building, the volume of business has so greatly increased that even with this new annex the output lags far behind the demand.

Including the new Seattle factory, which has just been completed, the total capacity of the Mayer Boot and Shoe Company exceeds 9,000 pairs a day. This remarkable output, together with the inability of the Mayer company to build factories fast enough to keep pace with the demand, is most convincing evidence of the high quality of Mayer footwear.

In the first place the Mayer shoes are sensible. While good style is an important factor, comfort is always a greater consideration; while conspicuous extremes are avoided, refined dressiness is always secured. The exceptional durability and splendid wearing quality of Mayer shoes are due to the use of only the best leather and the employment of only the most experienced and skillful workmen. From the wide range of styles you are certain to find one which pleases. The best brands are the "Honorbilt" fine shoe for men; the "Leading Lady" fine shoes; the "Martha Washington" comfort shoes; "Special Merit" school shoes, and "Yerma" cushion shoes. If you want a dress shoe, a work shoe, or a shoe dressy enough for general use, yet sturdy enough for rough usage, it is our belief that you can't do better than to ask your dealer to supply you with one of the Mayer brands.

Pointed Questions.

Why not stop paying rent and working for someone else? Do you know that agriculture is the basis of all wealth? Do you know that I have barrens in improved farms and timber lands that would make you independent and your own master? You can do business with me.

OXEN AGAIN IN THE WOODS

High Price of Horses and Grain a Factor to Return to Old Methods in Logging Operations.

The ox is again to be a factor in the logging operations of northern Wisconsin and Michigan. For over fifteen years the slow but hard-working beast has been shoved aside by the horse and there are at present no cattle being used in the woods where a score of years ago they were generally used in logging.

No less authority than Senator Isaac Stephenson believes the lumbermen made a mistake when they made the horses take the place entirely of the yoked oxen. Acting on that belief the N. Ludington company and the L. Stephenson company, of which Mr. Stephenson is the executive head, are making arrangements to put to work a large number of oxen in the woods this winter.

The high price of horses and grain is the chief factor that has brought about this notable return to the old method of logging. Oxen cost about $100 a pair, while a good team of horses cost from $450 to $600. The cattle consume less grain and are for that reason not so costly to keep. But aside from these reasons, which have directly led to the return to old style logging, it is believed that in the rougher work of the camp they are more desirable. They will be used this winter in skidding and in hauling out of swamps by the above named companies.

The State Veterinarian.

The Wisconsin Live Stock Sanitary Board is organized to protect the health of the life stock of this state, and this work is done through its executive officer, the State Veterinarian. In order to obtain the services and attention of the State Veterinarian it is necessary that stock owners call in a veterinarian to examine their stock when ailing, and if there be found among them a disease of an infectious or contagious nature, such as tuberculosis, glanders, anthrax, black leg, haemorrhagic septicaemia, hog cholera, swine plague, rinderpest, foot and mouth disease, pleura pneumonia, actinomycosis or rabies, the owner or attendant of such stock should report same to the health officer of the town, village or city in which the stock is kept. It is then the duty of the health officer to make a full report of the case in writing to the state veterinarian.

All such notices must come through the health officer of the town, village or city in which the stock is kept, in order to receive attention.

MUST BE DEMOCRATIC

President Van Hise Takes Stand for Maintenance of Fraternal Democracy at Wisconsin University.

"It can certainly be predicted that twenty-five years hence a larger percentage of those students who are now waiting on table and tending furnaces in order to obtain a college education, will occupy positions of dignity and trust than those who consider themselves the aristocracy of the university," said President Charles R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin in addressing the underclassmen at the first convocation of the year last Friday noon.

"The efforts necessary to gain a livelihood while pursuing a college course develops the energy and resourcefulness essential to success in life. While the more fortunate financially are the more conspicuous, the less conspicuous nine-tenths of the students are the real university, for they are the ones who are steadily doing their assigned tasks, and are preparing themselves for useful careers. Be not mistaken on this point. The man for you to emulate is not the man who is a leader in social affairs, but the man who is a leader in his class work, in the debating society, in the various student enterprises which advance the interests of the university as a whole.

"The university authorities recognize no difference between the student who is earning his own livelihood and the one who comes here with ample funds. It is my hope, however, that fraternal democracy may be maintained throughout the university. At this time therefore I wish to appeal to the older students and to those who are in better circumstances to do everything possible to make easier the struggle of the less fortunate. If you will utilize this opportunity by becoming acquainted with those who do not have friends, who do not have money; if you assist in making the lives of others pleasant, you will be performing a great service to the university and to the state. The line of cleavage which sometimes appears between the more fortunate and the less fortunate will disappear, and the feelings between the different groups will not be those of enemies on the one side and semi-contempt on the other, but rather mutual respect. These efforts toward maintaining fraternal relations will go far toward developing those qualities of leadership essential for the highest success."

Hard Times in Kansas.

The old days of grasshoppers and drouth are almost forgotten in the prosperous Kansas of today; although a citizen of Codell, Earl Shamburg, has not yet forgotten a hard time he encountered. He says: "I was worn out and discouraged by coughing night and day, and could find no relief till I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. It took less than one bottle to completely cure me." The safest and most reliable cough cure and lung and throat healer ever discovered. Guaranteed by H. D. McCulloch Co. 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Senator Borah, who tried to convict Haywood, has been indicted for public land frauds. Will it be shown that at least one of the stoners of Haywood was not without sin?

Quincy, Sprains and Swellings Cured.

"In November, 1901, I caught cold and had the quincy. My throat was swollen so I could hardly breathe. I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it gave me relief in a short time. In two days I was all right," says Mrs. L. Cousins, Otterburn, Mich. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment and is especially valuable for sprains and swellings. For sale by H. D. McCulloch Co.

LARGE NUMBER OF INSANE

Over One Hundred From This County Cared for at Different State and County Institutions.

A total of 120 patients from Portage county were confined in the various insane asylums of the state during the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1907. Of this number 42 were in the Northern asylum at Oshkosh and 78 in the county asylums, but as several were transferred during the year as incurables from the former institution to the others, the total is that much less than 120, their names appearing twice on the list as presented. For the board of these patients the county pays $1.50 per week and the state a like amount, and the county also pays for the necessary clothing, except where the board and maintenance is paid for by relatives of the unfortunate. The report of the board of control, received by County Clerk Bourn last week, shows that the total amount this county must pay for the support of its insane is $8,394.10, of which $7,566.66 is for board and $827.44 for clothing. The number in the county asylums during the year was as follows: Outagamie, 4; Marathon, 14; Waupaca, 20; Waukesha, Washington, Sheboygan and Winnebago counties, 2 each; Trempealeau, 18; St. Croix, 3; Fond du Lac, 4; Dunn, 5.

In the Industrial school at Waukesha there were seven boys from this county, but only one remained during the entire year, and the total charge for maintenance was $126.11.

Swine For University.

Four fine animals of the Chester-White breed of swine are to be added to the University of Wisconsin Agriculture College herd for the purpose of instruction in the animal husbandry department. Three choice gilts from the herd of W. J. Martin, Darlington, and a boar from H. J. Noblet's herd at Elkhorn have been selected for this purpose. With the addition of this breed of swine to the herd, the university will be equipped to give classroom instruction and practice in judging in all breeds of swine useful to Wisconsin farmers. Within the last few weeks the university has sold and transferred to other herds thirteen pure-bred Berkshire swine, most of them going to Wisconsin breeders. The last sales were a choice boar, the get of Star Masterpiece 2nd, to James Lloyd-Jones & Sons, Spring Green, and a yearling sow by the same sire to H. C. Taylor, Oxfordville.

PERFORMANCE NOT STOPPED

Electricity at the Ideal Theatre Caused a Little Scare, Sunday Afternoon, but No Damage Resulted.

There was an incipient fire at the Ideal Theatre, Sunday afternoon, which, however, did but little harm except to cause momentary uneasiness among the Elks who happened to be in their club rooms above and to Mr. Sullivan, who occupies the store building next door east, in the same block. The electric current was evidently not turned on at the plant at the usual hour that afternoon, and after waiting for some time, Manager Carle of the Ideal decided to dismiss the audience that had assembled and to close up until evening. Soon after his departure, however, the current was turned on and a curtain used in the box office at the front end of the theatre, came in contact with an over-heated wire or globe, and caught on fire. It burned slowly away, igniting the paper on one of the side walls and charring the wood work. At about this time smoke was discovered in the hallway leading to the second floor, and Mr. Sullivan secured an entrance to the theatre thru the basement, only to find that the fire had entirely burned itself out, and only the smoke and charred paper and cloth were evidence that there had been a blaze a little while before. Manager Carle arrived on the scene at about this time and the usual popular performances have been going on each afternoon and evening, without interruption.

The game at Waupaca last Saturday was a complete victory for Stevens Point, the score being 10 to 0. Next Saturday a game is scheduled with Grand Rapids. As the Rapids team is a strong one the game promises to be exciting.

A Few Base Ball Figures.

Among the few of very many base ball team managers having more troubles than a Dakota farmer during continued cyclones, is our genial hard working ball game promoter, Jos. W. Ash, to whom has been entrusted the duty of getting the maximum of professional plays for Stevens Point followers for the minimum financial outlay during the past three years. Over- looking the past and considering the present season, Manager Ash started the season of 1907 with $245, solicited from our business men. Competing with neighboring and smaller cities, he was able to secure only a few of the best players in the state, because the smaller cities had the most money. Grand Rapids, our keenest rival for the season's honors, having started with $1,100 and the treasury being reimbursed after that with $300 every month. Merrill also failed to hold out the entire season, though started on a more favorable footing. In spite of all, Mr. Ash kept the team together until last week, and since the majority of games have been won, games being played against serious disadvantages, our showing has been excellent. The season closed one week ago last Sunday with the treasury minus and many bills unpaid. Had the weather during the past month been at least fair, the association would be able to meet all comers with open arms. The reason for a depleted treasury is briefly stated: Business men and citizens have not supported their own city team by contributions and attendance as the people of other smaller cities have their teams. Would it pay to put a team into the field next year? Experience teaches it would not, although things may change. Boosters can accomplish wonders by overwhelming knockers.

Freight Collision at Milladore.

There was a lively mix-up of rolling stock on the Central at Milladore, last Saturday evening. A local freight stood on the track at that place, when freight train No. 28, south bound, came down the track at a lively speed. Engineer Annis of No. 28 did not see the train ahead in time to stop and hardly had time to reverse his lever, turn on the brakes and jump before his engine struck the caboose of the local freight. His fireman also jumped in time, receiving no injury, but the engineer was slightly hurt. Conductor Dave McGill and his brakeman were in the caboose just a few minutes before the collision, and if they had remained they would undoubtedly have been killed, as the caboose was completely wrecked, as were also two cars ahead. A dog owned by Engineer Wm. McMulkin was in the caboose at the time of the collision, but in some manner escaped without injury. The engine on train No. 28 was badly wrecked and two or three cars will need extensive repairs.

Bellaire, O.—Eight men were killed and a score injured, four fatally, when the Chicago & Wheeling express on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad crashed into a freight train at a siding near here Saturday.

Failure of an operator to throw the switch and give a clear track to the express train, which was speeding to make up three hours' lost time, is said to have been the cause of the accident.

The dead are: Carl Bererian, Milwaukee; I. N. Galbraith, engineer, Newark, N. J.; Michael Heinze, Wheeling, W. Va.; H. A. Lipscomb, engineer, Newark, N. J.; F. E. Motz, conductor, Newark, N. J.; F. L. Rose, Cleveland, O.; Harry Seitz, Massillon, O.; William Shaw, Wheeling, W. Va. The fatally injured: E. J. Blubaugh, mail clerk, Newark, N. J.; Ben Daley, Pittsburgh, Pa.; W. C. Do-sant, mail clerk, Newark, N. J.; D. E. Kneer, mail clerk, Newark, N. J.

Among the passengers on the express were the members of Richard Carle's "Spring Chicken" Comic Opera company. All of them, with the exception of Alfred Dalby, the musical director, escaped serious injury, however. It was found necessary to amputate Mr. Dalby's right arm, thus ending his musical career.

Several other members of the company, including Mr. Carle himself, had narrow escapes from serious injuries. They owe their escape to the fact that their private car was last on the train. Engineer H. A. Lipscomb underwent a heroic surgical operation to save his life. Caught beneath his engine, it was impossible to remove the broken iron from his body. Escaping steam across his face made it impossible to administer any anesthetic and the physicians amputated his leg as he lay there conscious. The effort was in vain, however, as Lipscomb died later.

SONS OF PRESIDENTS

SOME WHO HAVE CHANCE FOR THE WHITE HOUSE.

Thus Far Only One Man, John Quincy Adams, Has Succeeded in Following His Father Into Executive Chair.

Washington.—Sons of former presidents of the United States are not to be discounted as factors in public affairs.

The boys of President Roosevelt and President Cleveland are still too young to be reckoned with, and McKinley had none, but those wearing the name of Lincoln, Grant and Garfield are holding prominent places in public life, and it is by no means an impossibility that one of them may yet go to the White House.

There is a precedent. John Quincy Adams made a greater president than his distinguished father, John Adams. Harrison, father and son, did not succeed each other, but Benjamin Harrison was grandson of William Henry Harrison, so that it will be seen that relationship is by no means a bar to a man's ambitions.

The case of the Grants at once suggests itself. There are two of them now holding high places in public esteem, and one of them, Frederick Dent Grant, has followed the calling of his father, and is a soldier. The other, Jesse Grant, who has spent most of his years in California, was not quite so well known until recently a number of boomers suggested him as available material for the Democratic nomination to the presidency.

Then folks began to sit up and take notice and ask questions about Jesse Grant.

They found out that Jesse was the third son of Lee's conqueror, that, having retired from business, in which he acquired liberally of wealth, he is now settled down in New York.

Perhaps the strongest plank in Mr. Grant's platform is opposition to Mr. Roosevelt. He does not believe in the policies inaugurated by the strenuous man from Sagamore Hill. He does not think that a trust is necessarily pernicious, he favors a restriction of immigration, and he deprecates the elaborate ceremonials that are now deemed essential to White House hospitality.

His career has been of the kind that invites expectation. He was a boy around the White House, he went to school at Hentor, studied law graduated, made himself an honorable record in the Ohio senate, and then came to Washington.

It is a fact not generally remembered that James Rudolph Garfield was not Mr. Roosevelt's first choice for civil service commissioner. The place was originally offered to his brother Harry A. Garfield, leading Ohio attorney and man who gained fame because of the persistency with which he has opposed political corruption in the state.

As soon as the latter got a foothold at the capitol, he made a quick impression and proved to President Roosevelt that he is the kind of man needed to aid in the administration's war on corporations. In a short time he had been advanced from the civil service department and made commissioner of corporations. It was in this post that he did his most notable work, and as a reward he was finally taken to the official family of the president as secretary of the interior.

Here Mr. Garfield gained his spurs by addressing himself to the task of dealing with the land thieves.

President Roosevelt was much delighted with the vigor the son of Ohio's first martyred President put in his work, and Mr. Garfield is now one of the president's closest advisers.

In his intimacy with Mr. Roosevelt he enjoys one great advantage that Senator Lodge is perhaps the only man who shares. He is a great reader, and his tastes for books is the admiration of the president, also a man of letters. No matter how great the stress of official business, the young secretary can always find time to read, and his knowledge of a wide range of topics makes him especially valuable at the cabinet conferences.

Though his face is bright, smiling and full of life, Mr. Garfield is really a serious man. He works hard and incessantly, and he compels employees in the department to follow his example.

DO YOU WIGGLE WOGGLE? Latest Amusement That Is All the Rage Down East.

Chicago.—It has arrived. It is the wiggle-woggle.

Do you wiggle-woggle? If not, why not? You've got just as much right to wiggle-woggle as anybody else. People who have wiggle-woggled say it's the best fun in the world. It's the fad down east. Everybody wiggle-woggles around down there.

The wiggle-woggle in principle is a three-cornered piece of wood with a castor leg under each corner and a steering rudder in front. By standing on the stool with a foot on each of the two corners farthest from the rudder and by jiggling, or rather wiggling, the body so as to give motion to the feet, the stool will move along quite rapidly. By means of a cord fastened to the steering gear the stool may be made to travel in any direction required.

This stool, painted to look like a turtle, is the wiggle-woggle. The man who invented it is said not to have thought much of his discovery. He could travel faster on a street car or on a bicycle. So he left his wiggle-woggle neglected in the back yard.

Then his wife tried the queer contraption. She was a very stout person, and anything that looked like it was good for a ride she was willing to try. The lady was delighted. She discovered that the too, too solid flesh melted off perceptibly while she gave that sinuous swaying motion that induced the machine to go. She was so charmed with the machine that she induced her daughter to try it.

Daughter demurred for some time, for she was so thin she had to stand three times in one place to make a shadow. She shuddered to think what would become of her if she began riding the wiggle-woggle. Strange to say, the wiggle-woggle that had made her mother so sylph-like gave daughter a shape like Juno. The wiggle-woggle had brought into play and development the very muscles needed to fill out the figure.

The constant movement of the hip and waist, which is necessary to make the machine move, is one of the best known means of reducing the waist line. But scrawny persons are just as enthusiastic about the wiggle-woggle as are stout people.

C. G. Burton, New National Commander of G. A. R.

Nevada, Mo.—Charles G. Burton, who has been elected commander of the National G. A. After the war closed he studied law and was admitted to the bar at Warren, Ohio. He then came to Missouri and speedily made a name for himself in local circles before being elected to a judgeship. INEXPENSIVE AND EASILY PREPARED BY ANYONE.

Is Said to Promptly Relieve Backache and Overcome Kidney Trouble and Bladder Weakness Though Harmless and Pleasant to Take.

What will appear very interesting to many people here is the article taken from a New York daily paper, giving a simple prescription, as formulated by a noted authority, who claims that he has found a positive remedy to cure almost any case of backache or kidney or bladder derangement, in the following simple prescription, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

A well-known authority, when asked regarding this prescription, stated that the ingredients are all harmless, and can be obtained at a small cost from any good prescription pharmacy, or the mixture would be put up if asked to do so. He further stated that while this prescription is often prescribed in rheumatic afflictions with splendid results, he could see no reason why it would not be a splendid remedy for kidney and urinary troubles and backache, as it has a peculiar action upon the kidney structure, cleansing these most important organs and helping them to sift and filter from the blood the foul acids and waste matter which cause sickness and suffering. Those who suffer can make no mistake in giving it a trial.

NO NEED FOR WORDS.

Brief Pantomime Told Everything to the Onlooker.

Harrison Grey Fiske discussed, at a dinner in New York, the art of acting.

"I believe," said Mr. Fiske, "in subtlety and restraint. A nod, a shake of the head, a silent pause—these things are often more effective than the most violent yelling and ranting.

"Life is like that, subtle and silent. What, for instance, could be more expressive than this scene, a scene without a spoken word, that I once witnessed in the country?

"An undertaker stood on a corner near a noble mansion. He elevated his brows hopefully and inquiringly as a physician came from the house. The physician, compressing his lips, shook his head decidedly and hurried to his carriage. Then the undertaker with a sigh passed on.

FURIOUS HUMOR ON CHILD.

Itching. Bleeding Sores Covered Body—Nothing Helped Her—Cuticura Cures Her in Five Days.

"After my granddaughter of about seven years had been cured of the measles, she was attacked about a fortnight later by a furious itching and painful eruption all over her body, especially the upper part of it, forming watery and bleeding sores, especially under the arms, of considerable size. She suffered a great deal and for three weeks we nursed her every night, using all the remedies we could think of. Nothing would help. We tried the Cuticura Remedies and after twenty-four hours we noted considerable improvement, and after using only one complete set of the Cuticura Remedies, in five consecutive days the little one, much to our joy, had been entirely cured, and has been well for a long time. Mrs. F. Ruefenacht, R. F. D. No. 3, Bakersfield, Cal., June 25 and July 20, 1908."

Full of Knots.

The lanky tramp removed his tattered hat and displayed his intellectual brow.

"Ah, lady," he confided, "I have brains to burn. There is nothing I like better than to tackle knotty problems."

The busy housewife reached for the ax.

"Indeed!" she said. "Well, go down to the woodpile. You will find that last load the most knotty problem you ever tackled during your career."

A Point of View.

The new steamer City of _____, was laid up for repairs and one of the rickety old-timers of the line was sailing in her place. A passenger who was somewhat irritated by the fact remarked to another, an Irishman, by the way: "The City of _____ always gets in at two in the morning and this old tub never gets in before six."

The Irishman thought for a moment and replied: "It's all right. The distance is just the same and we get a longer sail for the money."

The extraordinary popularity of fine white goods this summer makes the choice of Starch a matter of great importance. Defiance Starch, being free from all injurious chemicals, is the only one which is safe to use on fine fabrics. Its great strength as a stiffener makes half the usual quantity of Starch necessary, with the result of perfect finish, equal to that when the goods were new.

ENGLISHMAN'S FIRST AND SUCCESSFUL ATTEMPTS IN MANITOBA—SOIL PRODUCES STRIKING RESULTS.

The Winnipeg (Canada) Free Press of a few days since contains account of the success that followed the efforts of William Knowles, an Englishman who located near Winnipeg, Manitoba. This is but one of many letters giving experiences of settlers, and should be encouraging to those who are looking about for a new home in which they may better their conditions. The following is a copy of the article referred to:

William Knowles, who cultivates some twelve acres of land just below Middlechurch ferry on east side of the Red River has probably as fine a display of horticultural products as any in Manitoba. The whole of his holding is in a high state of cultivation and literally crowded with splendid vegetable specimens, which have fortunately escaped damage by hail, although heavy storms have more than once occurred within a few miles. The potatoes are a wonderful crop, and he expects to raise 1,500 bushels from his patch of 4 1/2 acres. A half dozen of tubers selected yesterday average more than a pound each. Adjoining the potatoes may be seen a marvelous collection of tomatoes. There are 600 plants, all growing under an enormous weight of fruit. One single stock picked yesterday contained eighteen tomatoes and weighed four pounds. This extraordinary example of marvelous growth, together with some of the potatoes were sent to the Free Press office.

The proprietor was the first in town with several specimens, including green corn. The season has been favorable for onions, and one square patch of nearly an acre is looking remarkably healthy. In addition there are good crops of cabbages, cauliflower, turnips, parsnips, carrots, pumpkins, marrows, cucumbers, celery, peas, lettuce, rhubarb, etc. The floral department has not been neglected and a charming display of all the well known blooms were shown, including a specially choice lot of asters.

Mr. Knowles, who gained most of his gardening experience in England, is loud in his praise of Manitoba soil for vegetable raising, and is gratified with the result of his first attempt at extensive horticulture.

Women Avoid Operations

When a woman suffering from female trouble is told that an operation is necessary, it, of course, frightens her.

The very thought of the hospital, the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart.

It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation has been decided upon as the only cure. The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who by taking made from native roots and herbs, have escaped serious operations, as evidenced by Miss Rose Moore's case, of 307 W. 26th St., N. Y. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of the very worst form of female trouble and I wish to express to you my deepest gratitude. I suffered intensely for two years so that I was unable to attend to my duties and was a burden to my family. I doctored and doctored with only temporary relief and constantly objecting to an operation which I was advised to undergo. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it cured me of the terrible trouble and I am now in better health than I have been for many years."

This and other such cases should encourage every woman to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before she submits to an operation.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women
Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.

The pure food law does not prohibit the sale of Cream of Tartar Baking Powders because Cream of Tartar is as pure as Alum—but it is a well known fact that a baking powder in which Alum is used instead of Cream of Tartar is less injurious. Dr. Herman Reinhold, the expert German chemist, in a recent official report concerning Baking Powders, declares that a pure Alum baking powder is better and less injurious than the so-called Cream of Tartar powders. He says that if the quantity of alum contained in a sufficient quantity of baking powder for a batch of bread or cakes for an ordinary family, be concentrated to one mouthful of food, and taken into the stomach of any one person, no matter how delicate, it could do no harm.

New and Liberal Homestead Regulations in

WESTERN CANADA

New Districts Now Opened for Settlement

Some of the choicest land in the great western belt of Saskatchewan and Alberta have recently been opened for settlement under the new and liberal Homestead Regulations of Canada. Thousands of homestead sections of 60 acres each are now available. The new regulations make it possible for any one to make by paying the entrance fee, a man in the United States have been waiting for. Any member of a family may make entry for any other member of the family, who may be entitled to make entry for himself or herself. Entry may now be made before the Agent or Sub-Agent of the District by paying certain conditions, by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Many acres of land are now being offered in Western Canada at 10¢ per acre. The land is fertile and well watered. The climate is healthy and the soil is rich. The land is well suited for raising grain and stock.

TO SPREAD THEOSOPHY

Mrs. Katherine Tingley, High Priestess,
Will Establish Home in England Similar to That at Point Loma
in California

London.—Mrs. Katherine A. Tingley, high priestess of Theosophy, arrived in London with three great esoteric objects in view: To discontinue the claims of Mrs. Annie Besant, who declares that she is possessed of the soul of the late Mme. Blavatsky, the founder of the modern theosophical school of philosophy; to rehabilitate the memory of the late William Q. Judge of New York, who has been denounced by Mrs. Besant as a charlatan, and to establish in the heart of the New Forest, near Ringwood, a theosophical academy similar to that maintained by Mrs. Tingley at Point Loma, Cal. Through lack of funds, if not through lack of personality, Mrs. Besant's grip upon English theosophists has been gradually waning, and for some time past the advocates of esoteric culture have sorely felt the need of an enthusiastic leader, who, with a power to make converts, should also cause funds to flow into the depleted coffers of the society.

Her work in New York, in Cuba and California has shown, so certain English Theosophists think, Mrs. Tingley to be such a leader. When required had to be brought; while on the west the Sierra Madre mountains filled the background to the sky.

This desert place has now become a semi-tropical garden, studded with 50 buildings of ancient Aryan architecture, including residences, an academic grove, and an amphitheatre all overlooked by an Aryan temple with an amethyst dome. Here was established the Raja Yoga schools—an institution which professes to give students an equal balance of mental, physical and spiritual education.

As the fame of the school spread the number of students multiplied, and pilgrimages were made to the place from many lands. There were persons who hoped to find in Theosophy relief from the pains, pains and doubts of human life. As prosperity grew and children of millionaires and day laborers, of authors, actors, and ministers toiled together, the curriculum was increased although it never departed from its original elemental foundation of hygiene, music, the fine arts, and languages, and, of course, what is known as "common school" education was not omitted, although everything was taught with the idea that it was a duty to be joyously and unselfishly entered into.

Enter Public Nursery Early.

A Spartan element was introduced, and a child of the colony, as soon as it was able to leave its mother, was consigned to the public nursery, where its welfare was looked after by an experienced corps of nurses, physicians, and teachers.

The day begins at Point Loma at 6 o'clock; half an hour later the students repair to the Greek theater for physical exercise, the girls being dressed in white and the boys in white blouses with dark blue trousers. This drilling lasts for about three-quarters of an hour. Then a breakfast at which milk is largely taken, is served. During the breakfast as well as at other meals there is music. Indeed, music and dancing form a large part of the instruction at Point Loma.

After breakfast the children and students break up into their various groups for their day's instruction and recreation. The little ones are taken back to the nursery or to the shore if the weather is fine, where they are instructed in animal and plant life; the youths and maidens repair to the Raja Yoga school, while the older students go to Academic Grove to listen to lectures or to debate on philosophical subjects. Luncheon is served at 12, the meal consisting of vegetables and fruit, and after luncheon there are athletic games and music and walk on the shore, and conversations between pupils and teachers.

Lights Out at 9:30.

A vegetarian dinner is served at 6, and in the evening there may be a play at the theater or a concert; but by half past nine all lights are put out, and stillness reigns at Point Loma. It is said that in seven years only two deaths have occurred there among the tate in the New Forest. The beneficiary at once turned this property over to the society.

The School in the New Forest.

After much deliberation Mrs. Tingley, with the co-operation of Miss Herbert and the Hansons, decided to establish in the New Forest and in Sweden theosophical schools similar to that so successfully maintained at Point Loma. Miss Herbert and the Hansons will proceed to Sweden to carry out one part of the program, while Mrs. Tingley, now known as the Purple Lotus Mother, just as Mme. Blavatsky was described as the White Lotus Mother, will remain in England for the purpose of establishing the school in the New Forest, to demonstrate her position as head of the society over Mrs. Besant, and, as has been said, to rehabilitate among English Theosophists the memory of Mr. Judge of New York, whom Mrs. Besant had maligned.

Mrs. Tingley had not been a day in London before she repaired to the European headquarters of the "Universal Brotherhood Organization, International Brotherhood League, and Theosophical Society." Her reception there will probably cause Mrs. Besant to declare that there have been traitors in her camp, for the Purple Lotus Mother was received and acclaimed as the only one and true head of the Theosophical society.

Supplants English Leader.

Figuratively and literally speaking, Mrs. Besant's picture was found turned to the wall, and those who were high part of the forest, overlooking the sea and the Isle of Wight, while two miles away is the village of Ringwood which for centuries was an important market town, and not only boasted of its annual fairs and weekly market days, but also had a flourishing industry in the tanning of leather, glove-making and charcoal burning.

One of the last charcoal burners was a man called Squa, who had cleared for himself an abode in the New Forest, and finally acquired a squatter's rights thereto. On his death the property was put up at auction and purchased by Hon. Auberon Herbert, author of "Politician in Trouble About His Soul," "Bad Air and Bad Health," and numerous pamphlets against taxation, who had become disgusted with the world and had determined to spend the rest of his life in quietude among his books.

Herbert's Forest Home.

In order to sustain his squatter rights, Mr. Herbert built a bed sitting-room around Squa's hut, and then bit by bit added a room here and there, until the crazy pile, such as looms up to-day, between the heights of Holdrewood and Berry Beches, was completed. Just before his death, last December, he constructed an observation tower, which today looms up unfinished over the accumulation of buildings; and beneath the shadow of its piles, within a little clearing surrounded by tall elms and poplars, the vanished host lies at rest.

"And do you think," one of Mrs. Tingley's most trusted aids was ask-supposed to be her most trusty lieutenants hailed Mrs. Tingley as a deliverer. On the evening of her advent she gave a large reception, in which all classes of society were represented. For the nonce she eschewed all the mystic phrases which English Theosophists had so long listened to from Mrs. Besant, and at once got down to a practical basis by explaining the principles of education carried out at Point Loma. She spoke with enthusiasm, even with eloquence, and her well-modulated and musical voice and flashing eyes held her audience with rapt attention. She said among other things:

"The great feature of all successful work is organization. The organization of the Raja Yoga system of education has been the production of remarkable results, which, I believe, are superior to those achieved by education on ordinary lines. Duty is the first principle taught, but its benefit is taught with understanding. While the practical side of life is not disregarded, advancement to it is taught by an understanding of what may be achieved by beauty, sweetness and light."

Her First Shot at Mrs. Besant.

"The organization is not in any way associated with the society with which Mrs. Annie Besant is connected. I hold that Theosophy is based on common sense, is practical, and can be applied to everyday life, and whenever one is found teaching to the contrary and theorizing without giving the practical demonstration, that person is not necessarily to be relied upon as a teacher or benefactor. Ambition and love of power may be more to such a one than the claims of humanity."

"When Mme. Blavatsky first started her great movement she appealed to all classes of minds, but some of her teachings have been, unfortunately, distorted by fanatics. In spite of the untiring efforts of Mme. Blavatsky and William Q. Judge, her successor, there are still those teaching Theosophy who, according to my philosophy, confuse the public mind. Thus are the simple and beautiful teachings of Theosophy obscured and rendered ineffective when applied to practical life."

Lively Times Looked For.

Thus Mrs. Tingley delivered her first shot at Mrs. Besant and for the memory of Mr. Judge. So far no reply has been made. The silence, however, is regarded as a calm before the storm, for Mrs. Besant still has adherents in London who look upon Mrs. Tingley as a usurper, and Mrs. Besant's strong hand is certainly a knowledge of Indian mystical lore, of which knowledge the Theosophists of Point Loma are said to be deficient. Lively times may, therefore, be expected when word comes from Mrs. Besant that the Mahatmas are fighting on her side.

Meanwhile Mrs. Tingley has repaired to the former Herbert residence in the New Forest, which now gives the appearance of a caravan, social in the wilderness. It is on a

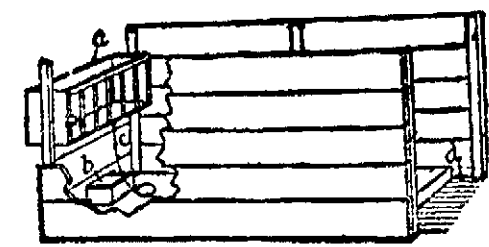

WELL-PLANNED COW STALL.

Features Which Will Add to the Comfort of the Animal.

I do not like stanchions of any kind. I think they destroy the naturalness of the cows and they trouble each other a great deal, besides often treading upon each other.

The only point in favor of stanchions is that they take up less room, but I believe the increase in milk is a reward for allowing more space and convenience to each cow.

The cut shows the kind of stall which I prefer, writes a correspondent of the Missouri Valley Farmer. The rack, a, is of hardwood 30 inches high, with the slats wide enough so cow can thrust her nose through up to her eyes.

The bottom of the rack is 18 inches wide, extending into the stall toward the cow. The feed box, b, slides through an opening in the stall on the barn floor. It can be drawn into the feedway, cleaned out and a new feed put in without being disturbed by the cow.

The halter strap, c, is just long enough to allow the cow to lie down comfortably. The gutter, d, is eight inches lower than the stall floor. When she lies down she will put her head under the rack in kneeling and when she gets up she will move backward so that she can look through the rack. The length and width of stall can be made to suit the cows.

AN ESSENTIAL FACTOR.

The Dairy Woman and the Part She Has Had in Developing the Dairy Cow.

It is doubtful if any of the valuable breeds of dairy cows could have been produced without the help of women. That is, these breeds have been brought to their high state of perfection because the people that have had the care of them for centuries have been mostly women. The cows of the Channel Islands and the cows of Holland have been under the supervision of women for so long a time that "the memory of man runneth not to the contrary."

Imagine, says Farmers' Review, some of our western cowboys trying to develop a breed of dairy cows. Any dairy breed they might evolve would have the ability to run a four-minute gait and to scale fences with little trouble. The cow naturally partakes something of the nature of the one that has charge of her. Kindness has made the Dutch cow and the Jersey cow kind. Harshness would have made them into animals that few could milk. Gentleness has made them of a quiet disposition, inclined to chew the cud in contentment, in a feeling of perfect security. This contentment has made the work of the mammary glands easy, and great capacities for the production of milk and cream have been evolved.

The United States is little likely to have a distinctive breed of dairy cows. In the main, our cows here are in the care of men, especially in the larger dairy establishments. On the farms where women milk that is the only part they have in dairying. Men have most of the care of the animals.

The dairy woman is best adapted to take care of the dairy cow. If more women take up dairying as an occupation it will be a good thing for the dairy interests. They appreciate the value of the fine points in dairying, and the fine points are what regulate the value of the dairy output.

DAIRY DOTS AND DASHES.

A hand separator well taken care of will last for a generation.

The man that owns a hand separator can feed warm skim milk to his stock.

The average person's idea of cleanliness corresponds with everyday conditions and conveniences.

A cow so milked that she does not enjoy the operation will soon retire from the business of giving milk.

Generally the failure to make dairying pay is due more to inefficient management than to poor cows.

In purchasing a cow for butter and milk do not be carried away by the breeding of the animal, but see that she has individual merit.

The application of elbow grease may be disagreeable, but it insures clean milk, clean separators, clean butter, and generally a clean reputation.

A gallon of 30 per cent cream weighs about eight pounds and five ounces. If it weighs less than that, it will surely test less than 30 per cent.

It is better to milk the cows before feeding them, as they will then keep more quiet. Besides the dust from the hay or the odor from the silage and other things will not get into the milk that is being drawn.

COWS FROM GRASS TO HAY.

Prof. A. L. Haecker, Nebraska, Tells How Change Should Be Made.

Cows are generally taken off pasture some time during the late fall when a big storm is in progress and it becomes necessary to house them. This method, while very natural, is not to be recommended, as the chances are the barn will not be in condition to receive the animals, and such little matters as bedding, feed, stalls, etc., will hardly be in shape for this new condition.

The best method, in my experience, to change stock from pasture to winter feed without causing a shrinkage in the milk flow or a loss in body weight of the animal, is to make such change gradually. A week, at least, should be taken to shift the animal from grass to dry feed or from pasture to winter. Very often during the season of the year when cows are changed the pasture is rather short and sometimes tough and dry, though if fall rains have been plentiful the grass may be in fairly good condition, but somewhat frosty. The cows if allowed access to a rack well filled with hay will begin eating the hay, even while the pasture is good. They will in this way become accustomed to the change gradually and will not suffer as a result of the new ration.

One of the best foods to give immediately after removing from pasture is roots. Beets, turnips or mangels may be fed at this season to the very best advantage. Beets are, as a rule, in the best shape at this season of the year, and may be fed in large rations, as silage or hay would be. A beet ration to a cow on full milk can be made from 15 to 30 pounds daily from four to ten pounds of grain, according to the amount of milk the animal is producing, and its capacity.

When forage or hay is given, it should be to the best quality at this time of the year, for the animal must be tempted with rations of the most palatable kind. If there is some spoiled hay in stack or barn do not feed it at this time, for it will come in much better during the cold winter months, when the animal has naturally a good appetite and is well accustomed to dry food. Keep the cows out of doors as much as possible, that is, stable only when necessary. If the general custom is to stable nights, see to it that the windows and doors are left open, for the season is generally mild during the late fall and early winter and animals will suffer more from close confinement than too much ventilation. Remember that a cow requires as much fresh air as ten people. Then if you are stabling 20 cows in a barn, consider what 200 people could stand in the way of confinement. Tuberculosis would be unknown if this were duly considered and made allowance for.

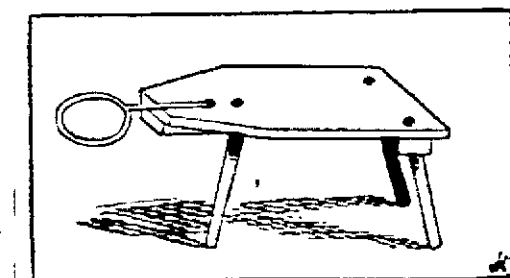

Several years ago we made a little test to ascertain the effect of stabling as compared with allowing the animal access to the open yard with sheds adjoining. The test was carried on during November, when the nights were cold and frosty. We found in this short test that in every instance where the cows were compelled to sleep in the barn in stalls they did not give as large a yield of milk as when allowed the open air. We were quite surprised about this for the nights were quite cold, though dry. The barn was well ventilated and the animals had plenty of good, dry bedding and were in clean stalls. Nevertheless, a stall is not as comfortable for an animal as the ground, providing it is not muddy or disagreeable.

We make it a practice, when changing from grass to dry feed, of allowing the cows as much liberty as possible in yards or paddocks about the barn; also to put them in the barn only when the weather is bad or at milking time, until they are well accustomed to the new condition. While cows are on pasture they naturally take considerable exercise. In grazing they walk many miles. The change from this condition to a narrow stall is naturally rather severe, and due consideration should be made in allowing the cow at this time as much freedom and open air as possible.—Orange Judd Farmer.

ANTI-SPILL MILK STOOL.

A Contrivance Which May Prove of Value to Some Milker.

"B" is made of lumber 1x10 inches and 16 inches long, with a piece of 2x4 for legs to go through nailed on the under side, the back piece going crossways and the front one lengthways.

"A" Swings the Bucket.

Bore holes for legs so they will stand well apart at the bottom. "A" is a bail for holding milk pail and is made from tooth of an old rake. It is bolted on just far enough away from stool so the pail will not strike when swinging either way. When cow goes to step, says the Missouri Valley Farmer, just swing bail out of the way and save the milk and your temper.

Milk Preservation.

The secret of milk preservation may be traced to two things. First, cleanliness; second, low temperature. If it is impossible to provide both, stay out of the milk and butter business.

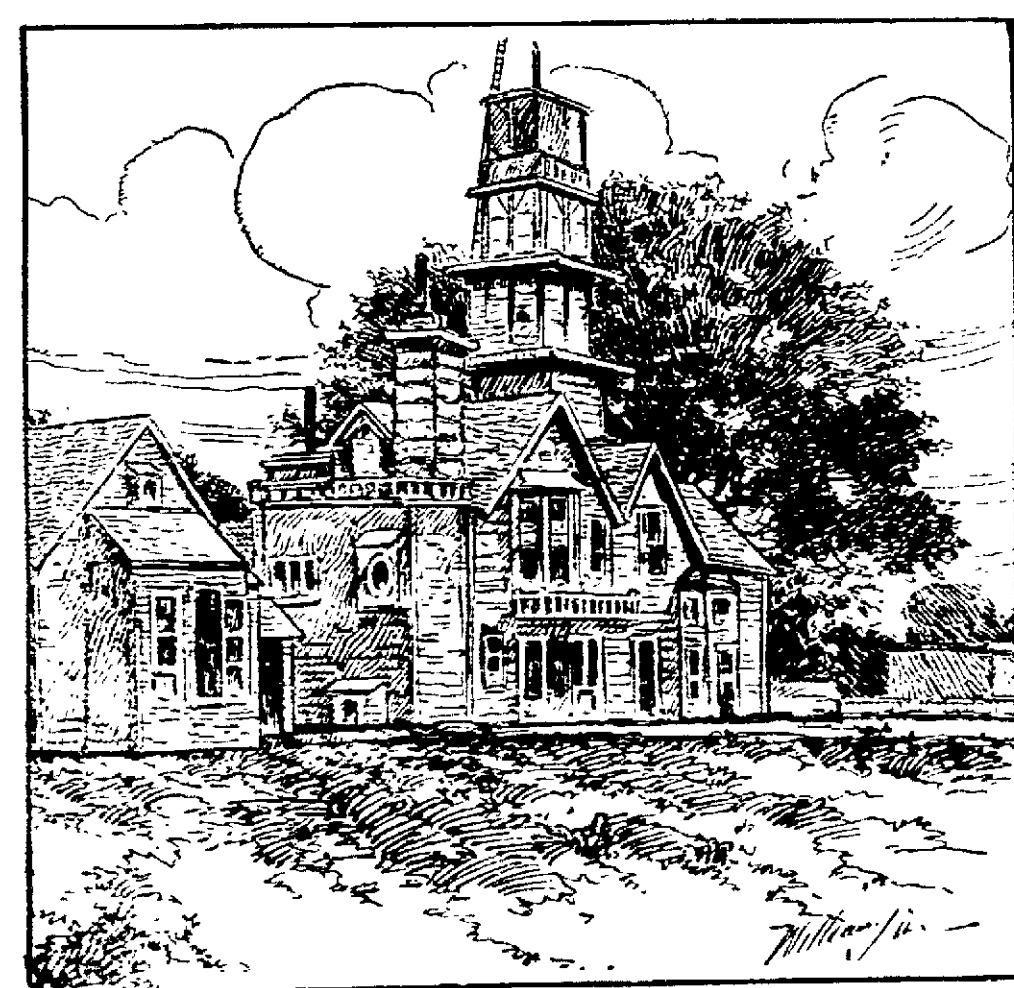

Mrs. Katherine Tingley.

Mrs. Blavatsky died several years ago. Mr. Judge asserted that, through revelations made to him by the Mahatmas, her soul had transmigrated to his body and he had been designated as her successor. Mrs. Tingley was then his lieutenant.

Routed Mrs. Besant.

About the same time Mrs. Besant repudiated Mr. Judge's revelations and declared that the soul of the Blavatsky had been transmitted to her. Mr. Judge, who was a skillful lawyer, so argued as to place the burden of truth upon the Englishwoman. He said: "Prove that I have not received communications from the Mahatmas." This, of course, Mrs. Besant could not do, but she continued to proclaim her leadership, and gathered around her in England a desultory following.

When Mr. Judge died, Mrs. Tingley became his successor by a similar token, and her enthusiasm, her charm of address, and her executive ability placed Theosophy upon a broader, more practical, and popular basis than that which had formerly held it. Some 12 years ago Mrs. Tingley acquired a long point of land, called Point Loma, in California, and there established her Philosophical Educational Institute. Six years ago she was joined there by the Hon. Nan Herbert, daughter of the Hon. Auberon Herbert and a sister of Lord Lonsdale. Mr. Herbert was an English nobleman, who had been a squatter in the New Forest.

Four months ago the Point Loma school was in full operation of its spring session, when two important items of news arrived. One was that some friends of two dead Swedish students, Mrs. Alfred Hanson, and Mrs. Maude Hanson, had been notified by the Royal Forest in Sweden. The other was that the Hon. Nan Herbert's mother had died in December, leaving her in possession of his es-
